Membership Expiration Dates

- If you renew between the 1st and 15th of the month, the current month is your expiration month.
- If you renew between the 16th and the end of the month, the next month is your expiration month.
- Existing members expire on June 30 each year and have a three-month grace period (until September 30) to renew and keep the same expiration month (June 30).
- Renewing after the grace period changes the expiration month.
- New members expire 12 months from when they join and have a three-month grace period to renew and keep the same expiration month. For a new member to expire on June 30, they would need to renew after their grace period, but before the 16th of the month.
